Our Topic: "Parent Night"

Brad has made many visits to La Salle over the years. He returns at the invitation of the La Salle H.S. Parent Executive Board. His aim is to help parents of teens understand the culture their children live in and see their role in their child's sexual maturity. Parents often say they wish they had received this kind of information when they were kids, and that it actually answered questions they as adults have had about love, marriage, and sex. Parent Night also creates positive parental support in delicate issues.

Our Speaker: Brad Henning

BRAD HENNING graduated in 1970 with a Bachelor of Arts degree from Seattle Pacific College. For the last 30 years he has worked with junior high, senior high, and college students throughout the Northwest. As director for Young Life in the Greater Puyallup Valley in Washington, Brad made classroom presentations on relationships and abstinence in public schools in Washington, Oregon, Montana, and Alaska. Because of demand for the presentation, Brad left Young Life staff in 1994 to found Life Resources, a non-profit organization which allows him to do presentations full-time in schools of Michigan, Idaho, Canada, and California, as well as the original four states. Brad and his wife, Barbara, live in Puyallup, Washington. (more info at www.bradhenning.com)
